

IC³ INSTITUTE
Resource Library

Top 10 online platforms to find Internships

Saikat Chakroborty
Correspondant
Edugraph Publication – The Telegraph
Online
India

Glassdoor: Glassdoor is a global job search platform that allows you to look for internships and jobs in almost any field. You can look for job and internship openings, company reviews, and job interview descriptions on this portal. It also provides easy application options and career advice.

https://www.glassdoor.co.in/Job/internship-jobs-SRCH_KOO,10.htm

Internshala: It is India's one of the largest internship platforms. It shows a diverse range of industries from where you can choose your preferred mode of internship. You can find internship opportunities from multinationals to small businesses through this portal.

<https://internshala.com/>

Idealist: This non-profit global organisation assists people in finding jobs, internships and volunteer opportunities for organisations all over the world. Here you can look for internships in both social and development sectors.

<https://www.idealists.org/en/internships?q=&searchMode=true>

Global Experiences: This website for international internships and career preparation programmes offers both college students and young professionals dynamic and professional internship opportunities.

<https://www.globalexperiences.com/>

Twenty19: This platform uses its website as well as social media handles to find internship opportunities for students and young professionals. It provides students with a more relaxed and welcoming environment where they can interact with companies that provide internships.

<https://www.facebook.com/twenty19/>

Media Bistro: This platform specialises in the media industry. It connects media talent with businesses. If you want to work in media, broadcasting, advertising or marketing, Media Bistro is a great place to look for internship opportunities.

<https://www.mediabistro.com/>

LetsIntern: This is an internship website in India which allows college students to find internships in their field of choice. Here you can look for internship opportunities in India's booming start-up sector.

<https://www.letsintern.com/>

InternWorld: It provides a solid framework for college students to categorise and organise their prior experiences. After filling out an online profile with the necessary information, you are free to browse thousands of internship listings from various industries.

<https://interns-world.com/>

HelloIntern: This internship site functions primarily as an alternative to the various internship websites in India. It also functions as a portal that connects students with the reputation of large corporations.

<https://www.hellointern.com/>

InternMee: This is a website that connects high school students with companies that offer internships, leadership, and volunteer opportunities. Its mission is to help students advance in the corporate world by providing them with access to the right networks and exposure to a variety of professions.

<https://www.internmee.com/>